

MOTORIST SUED FOR $5,601.73 AS RESULT OF CRASH

Walter Pacenski, Bensalem Township, Named Defendant in Suit

OCCURRED FEB. 7, 1946

Two Libels in Divorce Have Been Filed With Court

DOYLESTOWN, Dec. 1—Three suits, one of which has two plaintiffs claiming the sum of $5,601.73, as the result of an automobile-truck accident, and the others, libels in divorce in which Newtown and Langhorne wives are seeking divorces because of cruel and barbarous treatment, have been filed in the Court of Common Pleas here.

Walter Pacenski Taylor road, Bensalem township, whose address is Bristol, R. D. 2, has been named the defendant in an action in trespass by two plaintiffs, Frank Reynolds and Pearl Reynolds, Hulmeville road, Bristol, R. D. 2, claiming the sum of $5,601.73.

Frank O. Reynolds, in his own right, seeks to recover the sum of $601.73, which he alleges are the damages done to his car.

Pearl Reynolds, who was employed and earned $8 a day, claims the sum of $5,000 in her own right.

The automobile-truck collision happened Feb. 7, 1946, on the Hulmeville road at the Brown avenue intersection.

Elizabeth Luff, Chancellor street, Newtown, has named her husband, J. Leonard Luff, of the same address, the respondent in a libel in divorce. They were married April 3, 1946, in Newtown. The libellant avers she separated from the re-

Jesse T. Goss, 58, a resident of Doylestown for approximately 20 years, died in his sleep of a heart attack at his home Thursday. Mr. Goss, who was employed by his brother, Fred S. Goss, in the tire repair business, had been suffering from a heart condition for a short time.

The deceased was a native of Furlong, a son of the late John and Susanna Goss and the husband of the late May (nee Davis) Goss.

Mr. Goss was a member of Doylestown Lodge, No. 1284, L. O. O. M., and Jamison Lodge, L. O. O. F.

Given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Donald E. DeLacey, New Hope, after charges were preferred by Rutledge Buckman, Buckingham township, two Philadelphia men, John R. Cropper and Allan Wright, each were fined $10 and costs for trespassing on posted land in Buckingham township.

In honor of their golden wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Trauch, of Weissel for 40 years, were married November 20, 1897, at the Lutheran parsonage in Applebachville, by the Rev. Warren Nickel, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, Keller's Church.

On the same date a sister of Mr. Trauch's, Miss Ella Trauch and her husband, Mr. Trauch, were married at the same place.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Arab resentment over approval by the United Nations of a partition of Palestine flared yesterday into terrorism. Several Jews were killed in ambush. Arabs attacked Jewish prisoners in Acre Prison and Arab leaders called for a three-day general strike. The acting head of the Arab Higher Committee predicted a holy war if any attempt was made to enforce partition. Zionists in Palestine expressed their pleasure over the United Nations vote by celebrations in which British troops joined and Jews in Germany's displaced persons camps also celebrated.

Officials of the United Nations decided, in view of the Arab outbreaks, to send the new Palestine Commission to the Holy Land at the earliest moment. It was felt that the future of the United Nations might depend on the success of the Palestine plan.

The French Assembly authorized Premier Schuman's Government to call up 80,000 army reservists for police use against strike disorders and sabotage. Only the Communists voted against the bill. Debate on whether provisions of the proposed "law for the defense of the republic and the protection of the freedom to work" will be resumed today.

The strike situation remained fluid. Italian Communists do not want civil war but they will win if one comes; their leader said in threatening further riots.

Reports reaching U. S. diplomats at the Foreign Ministers' conference in London that Austria was on the verge of a political crisis were denied by Foreign Minister Gruber.

It was learned that differences over control of the Ruhr had split the United States delegation in London and that Secretary Marshall was impressed by General Clay's plan to leave the area in German hands under close Allied control rather than to internationalize it.

Senator Ives appealed for passage of interim and long-range aid to Europe if the United States is not to be "enslaved from Moscow." The Senate may vote on the stop-gap measure today. On the domestic aspect, a Government official said that fuel rationing was not likely.

President Truman's Air Policy Committee is expected to recommend a multi-billion-dollar five-year aviation expansion program as essential to defense.

Treasury Department workers reported that they had devised methods to bring domestics, farmhands and self-employed persons under social security.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Moving To The Left

Washington, Dec. 1—THERE have been some American Presidents who made their own decisions, evolved their own ideas, formulated their own policies, economic as well as political, and were independent of any group of "inner-circle" advisers. They, of course, had their "close friends" and administration intimates. But they did not ask them; they told them.

ON the other hand, most of our Presidents have relied upon advisers, in and out of their Cabinets. Their course has been shaped by the counsel of the men by whom they were surrounded. Unquestionably, Mr. Truman is one of these. That is why it seems important to know and understand the position of the individuals who have great influence on his mind.

SIX DIE IN FIRE IN PHILA. MISSION

Three-Alarm Fire Sweeps Four Story Dormitory of Volunteers of America

(By International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1—Six homeless transients perished today in a three-alarm fire which swept the four-story factory and dormitory of a north Philadelphia mission, destroying hundreds of Christmas toys which the men were making.

A score of others were injured. The fire, believed to have started in a couch on the first floor of the Volunteers of America, Inc., spread with lightning speed through the brick structure in which 68 men were sleeping.

Battalion Chief Leonard Dunlap, first on the scene, said that "the whole place was on fire when we arrived."

Police accounted for 51 of the shelter's occupants. These were either taken to hospitals or sent to other shelters throughout the city. They explained that the 17 unaccounted for may have strayed from the scene, adding it was possible there were only 51 occupants in the home.

Fire Inspector Robert J. Clark declared that "we believe we have everyone—and all the bodies—out of the building."

Firemen quickly raised ladders and ascended to the burning windows covered by protective screens of water which turned almost instantly to ice in the below-freezing temperatures.

At least 10 persons were carried down ladders, while other firemen assisted residents down a metal fire escape in the rear of the building.

One man, identified as Stanley Bush, 45, screamed for aid from a third story window from which tongues of flame were shooting.

Battalion Chief Warren Stackhouse shouted from below for him to hold on, as a ladder was being directed to the spot.

BRACKEN POST TO MEET

Commander Martin J. Healey announced that an important meeting of the Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion, will be held in the Post home, Radcliffe street, tomorrow evening.

SECRETS IN CONGRESS

Can a matter which is set forth clearly in a Bill laid on the desk of every Congressman, and printed in full in a number of large newspapers, be considered in any sense a "secret?"

Under ordinary circumstances, of course not. But these are not ordinary times, nor are the methods of the United States government in this period the ordinary methods of free and democratic government.

For all practical purposes, it may be said that, fantastic as it may sound, a great deal of the stop-gap relief program is being kept a well-guarded secret from the American people.

How many take the trouble to read a law and try to understand what it means? Not so many as you might think—even in a legislative body which is about to pass it; and of course far fewer among the general public.

The tendency is to accept what leaders and "statesmen" say about the law—and then plead surprise when, as has happened so often after the law is passed, it turns out to be quite different from what everyone had expected.

In the case of European relief, there has been a tremendous "build-up." Practically every national spokesman, including President Truman, Secretary of State Marshall and Senator Vandenberg as well as a host of commentators, analysts, interpreters and "subjective" reporters has given his version of what is in the proposed statute.

In the case of President Truman, Secretary Marshall, and the rest of those who are trying to "sell a bill of goods" as part of the campaign for re-electing Truman next year, it is not surprising that they should put the best possible face on the questionable features of the measure.

It is startling, however, to find an outstanding Republican such as Senator Vandenberg echoing propaganda in preference to a factual analysis of the plan, and laying himself open to a charge of helping the White House Democrats in a conspiracy of silence about certain phases of the relief bill.

What is the big secret?

It is that the American goods and money are to be turned over to the weak, incompetent and largely Socialistic governments of certain European countries. These tottering governments are to be strengthened by ALLOWING THEM TO SELL THE AMERICAN GOODS TO THEIR "STARVING" CITIZENS!

No one who takes the trouble to read the Bill itself can possibly miss this point. It is all down in black and white—though every important speech, including Vandenberg's, has glossed the matter over.

The bill provides that the goods and money are to be delivered to the governments; it provided that in their re-sale, the local currency is to be accepted; it provided that "profiteering" by the government in the re-sale is not to be permitted; it provides that the proceeds are to be segregated by the governments, and spent only after American approval of method and purpose.

In his recent eloquent and emotional appeal for quick passage of the Bill, Senator Vandenberg started out by saying that the aim of the law is to bring "interim aid . . . against winter hunger and winter cold."

DOUGHERTY HONORED BY YACHT CLUB

Edward S. Dougherty Made Commodore Emeritus For His Long Service

IS GUEST AT A PARTY

The highest honor that it is possible for a yacht club to bestow was awarded Saturday evening to Edward S. Dougherty when he was made a commodore emeritus of the Anchor Yacht Club.

The award was the highlight of the festivities of a surprise party tendered in Dougherty's honor by the officers and members of the Anchor Yacht Club and their friends.

Commodore Russell Moore made the principal address and the presentation of a scroll and a yachting cap with the insignia of the office.

The scroll read as follows:

"In recognition of forty years of loyal and steadfast service, the officers and members of the Anchor Yacht Club in meeting assembled, have ordered that you, Edward S. Dougherty, from this day forward and so long as this club shall endure shall be entitled to the rank and all honors as Commodore Emeritus of the Anchor Yacht Club."

The scroll was signed by the officers and trustees of the club.

Large Group Attends The Funeral of Mrs. A. Soby

HULMEVILLE, Dec. 1—A large company filled Grace Episcopal church here, yesterday afternoon, to pay honor to the memory of Mrs. Anna Soby, widow of George Soby, Sr., who died at Pennington, N. J., on Thursday.

Mrs. Soby was the mother of the late Jesse W. Soby, for whom the American Legion Post at Langhorne is named; and members of the Post and Auxiliary attended the rites in a group.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Oliver Newton, rector of the church. The Rev. Albert W. Eastburn, a former rector of the local church of which Mrs. Soby was a member, spoke in glowing terms of the exemplary life she had lived, and of the manner in which her cheerfulness was radiated to visitors in spite of many years' confinement to bed.

Floral pieces sent by relatives, friends and organizations were numerous, and many paid their respects at a Langhorne funeral home on Saturday evening. Burial took place in Beechwood Cemetery.

Serving as pall-bearers were four grandsons, and two grandsons-in-law.

State Police Say:

It's Christmas window-shopping time for people on the sidewalks.

But it is never window-shopping time when you're walking across the street or when you're at the wheel of your car.

A little carelessness buys a big bargain in living any time of the year.

ANGELA STELLATO IS WED TO J. BRUCCOLERI

Two Young Women Attend Bride in St. Ann's R. C. Church, Saturday

Attended by two young women, Miss Angela Stellato, 216 Penn street, became the wife of Mr. Joseph Brucoleri on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock of Mr. Joseph Brucoleri son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brucoleri, Trenton, N. J. The young woman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Stellato, was given in marriage by her father, the ceremony taking place in St. Ann's R. C. Church.

The bridegroom was of white velvet, the draped effect of the skirt being enhanced with white ostrich plumes. A crown of orange blossoms was worn, and to this was attached a finger-tip length veil of net and lace. The bride's oval bouquet was composed of white roses and lavender orchids.

Her attendants were Miss Anna LaRegina, Franklin street, bridesmaid, and Miss Dolores Brucoleri, Trenton, a sister of the bridegroom who was maid of honor. The former was gown in blue green tulle and the latter in pink tulle. The skirts of their gowns were also plum-colored. They wore picture hats to match their gowns, these being plum-colored. Slippers were of silver tone, and their oval bouquets were composed of red roses.

Mr. Anthony Rizzo, of Trenton, N. J., attended Mr. Brucoleri. Dinner for the bridal party and immediate families was served at a Trenton restaurant.

Mr. Dominic Canuci was the vocalist for the wedding.

For a honeymoon trip to New York, N. Y., Mrs. Brucoleri wore a gray gabardine suit black accessories, and lavender orchids. The newlyweds will take up residence at 265 Park Lane avenue, Trenton, N. J.

Gifts of the bride to her attendants were marcelite pins on which appeared their names; and gift of the bridegroom to the best man was a tie pin on which his name appeared.

Their place of residence will be with the bride's parents.

Mr. Chiariello served with the U. S. Army in Europe during World War II.

Notice to Advertisers

Due to changed conditions in the publication of a daily newspaper the Courier finds it absolutely necessary to set an advertising "dead-line" and hereafter reserves the right to reject advertising copy received later than seven days previous to the date of publication.

This means that copy for advertising to be inserted in the Thursday issue of the Courier must be in the Courier office not later than noon of the Thursday previous to publication.

The Courier may also find it necessary to reject copy ordered for a certain day due to a shortage of newsprint. The supply of newsprint which the Courier has on hand sometimes does not warrant accepting copy for a certain date as it might on that date make necessary the printing of a paper of more pages than the stock of newsprint on hand warrants.

We trust our advertisers will co-operate with us and they can rest assured that the Courier will do all that is possible. But we do not want advertisers to feel discriminated against if it is found necessary to reject copy for the date ordered.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1—Six homeless transients perished today in a three-alarm fire which swept the four-story factory and dormitory of a north Philadelphia mission, destroying hundreds of Christmas toys which the men were making.

A score of others were injured. The fire, believed to have started in a couch on the first floor of the Volunteers of America, Inc., spread with lightning speed through the brick structure in which 68 men were sleeping.

Battalion Chief Leonard Dunlap, first on the scene, said that "the whole place was on fire when we arrived." Police accounted for 51 of the shelter's occupants. These were either taken to hospitals or sent to other shelters throughout the city. They explained that the 17 unaccounted-for may have strayed from the scene, adding it was possible there were only 51 occupants in the home.

Fire Inspector Robert J. Clark declared that "we believe we have everyone—and all the bodies—out of the building."

Firemen quickly raised ladders and ascended to the burning windows covered by protective screens of water which turned almost instantly to ice in the below-freezing temperatures.

At least 10 persons were carried down ladders, while other firemen assisted residents down a metal fire escape in the front and a stairway in the rear of the building.

One man, identified as Stanley Bush, 45, screamed for aid from a third story window from which tongues of flame were shooting.

Battalion Chief Warren Stackhouse shouted from below for him to hold on, as a ladder was being directed to the spot.

BRACKEN POST TO MEET

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

The strike situation remained fluid. Italian Communists do not want civil war but they will win if one comes; their leader said in threatening further riots.

Reports reaching U. S. diplomats at the Foreign Ministers' conference in London that Austria was on the verge of a political crisis were denied by Foreign Minister Gruber.

It was learned that differences over control of the Ruhr had split the United States delegation in London and that Secretary Marshall was impressed by General Clay's plan to leave the area in German hands under close Allied control rather than to internationalize it.

Senator Ives appealed for passage of interim and long-range aid to Europe if the United States is not to be "enslaved from Moscow." The Senate may vote on the stop-gap measure today. On the domestic aspect, a Government official said that fuel rationing was not likely.

President Truman's Air Policy Committee is expected to recommend a multi-billion-dollar five-year aviation expansion program as essential to defense.

Treasury Department workers reported that they had devised methods to bring domestics, farmhands and self-employed persons under social security.

SECRETS IN CONGRESS

Can a matter which is set forth clearly in a Bill laid on the desk of every Congressman, and printed in full in a number of large newspapers, be considered in any sense a "secret"?

Under ordinary circumstances, of course not. But these are not ordinary times, nor are the methods of the United States government in this period the ordinary methods of free and democratic government.

For all practical purposes, it may be said that, fantastic as it may sound, a great deal of the stop-gap relief program is being kept a well-guarded secret from the American people.

How many take the trouble to read a law and try to understand what it means? Not so many as you might think—even in a legislative body which is about to pass it; and of course far fewer among the general public.

The tendency is to accept what leaders and "statesmen" say about the law—and then plead surprise when, as has happened so often after the law is passed, it turns out to be quite different from what everyone had expected.

In the case of European relief, there has been a tremendous "build-up." Practically every national spokesman, including President Truman, Secretary of State Marshall and Senator Vandenberg as well as a host of commentators, analysts, interpreters and "subjective" reporters has given his version of what is in the proposed statute.

In the case of President Truman, Secretary Marshall, and the rest of those who are trying to "sell a bill of goods" as part of the campaign for re-electing Truman next year, it is not surprising that they should put the best possible face on the questionable features of the measure.

It is startling, however, to find an outstanding Republican such as Senator Vandenberg echoing propaganda in preference to a factual analysis of the plan, and laying himself open to a charge of helping the White House Democrats in a conspiracy of silence about certain phases of the relief bill.

What is the big secret?

It is that the American goods and money are to be turned over to the weak, incompetent and largely Socialist governments of certain European countries. These tottering governments are to be strengthened by ALLOWING THEM TO SELL THE AMERICAN GOODS TO THEIR "STARVING" CITIZENS!

No one who takes the trouble to read the Bill itself can possibly miss this point. It is all down in black and white—though every important speech, including Vandenberg's, has glossed the matter over.

The bill provides that the goods and money are to be delivered to the governments; it provided that in their re-sale, the local currency is to be accepted; it provided that "profiteering" by the government in the re-sale is not to be permitted; it provides that the proceeds are to be segregated by the governments, and spent only after American approval of method and purpose.

DOUGHERTY HONORED
BY YACHT CLUB*Edward S. Dougherty Made Commodore Emeritus For His Long Service*IS GUEST AT A PARTY

The highest honor that it is possible for a yacht club to bestow was awarded Saturday evening to Edward S. Dougherty when he was made a commodore emeritus of the Anchor Yacht Club.

The award was the highlight of the festivities of a surprise party tendered in Dougherty's honor by the officers and members of the Anchor Yacht Club and their friends.

Commodore Russell Moore made the principal address and the presentation of a scroll and a yachting cap with the insignia of the office.

The scroll read as follows:

"In recognition of forty years of loyal and steadfast service, the officers and members of the Anchor Yacht Club in meeting assembled, have ordered that you, Edward S. Dougherty, from this day forward and so long as this club shall endure shall be entitled to the rank and all honors as Commodore Emeritus of the Anchor Yacht Club."

The scroll was signed by the officers and trustees of the club.

Large Group Attends The Funeral of Mrs. A. Soby

HULMEVILLE, Dec. 1—A large company filled Grace Episcopal Church, here, yesterday afternoon, to pay honor to the memory of Mrs. Anna Soby, widow of George Soby, Sr., who died at Pennington, N. J., on Thursday.

Mrs. Soby was the mother of the late Jesse W. Soby, for whom the American Legion Post at Langhorne is named; and members of the Post and Auxiliary attended the rites in a group.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Oliver Newton, rector of the church. The Rev. Albert W. Eastburn, a former rector of the local church of which Mrs. Soby was a member, spoke in glowing terms of the exemplary life she had lived, and of the manner in which her cheerfulness was radiated to visitors in spite of many years' confinement to bed.

Floral pieces sent by relatives, friends and organizations were numerous, and many paid their respects at a Langhorne funeral home on Saturday evening. Burial took place in Beechwood Cemetery. Serving as pall-bearers were four grandsons, and two grandsons-in-law.

Attended by two young women, Miss Angela Stellato, 216 Penn street, became the wife on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock of Mr. Joseph Bruccoleri son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bruccoleri, Trenton, N. J. The young woman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Stellato, was given in marriage by her father, the ceremony taking place in St. Ann's R. C. Church.

The bridegroom was of white velvet, the draped effect of the skirt being enhanced with white ostrich plumes. A crown of orange blossoms was worn, and to this was attached a finger-length veil of net and lace. The bride's oval bouquet was composed of white roses and lavender orchids.

Her attendants were Miss Anna LaRocca, Franklin street, bridesmaid; and Miss Dolores Bruccoleri, Trenton, a sister of the bridegroom, who was maid of honor. The former was gown in pale green faille and the latter in pink faille. The skirts of their gowns were also plume-draped. They wore picture hats to match their gowns, these being plume-trimmed. Slippers were of silver tone, and their oval bouquets were composed of red roses.

Mr. Anthony Rizzo, of Trenton, N. J., attended Mr. Bruccoleri. Dinner for the bridal party and immediate families was served at a Trenton restaurant.

Mr. Domenico Cancelli was the vocalist for the wedding. For a honeymoon trip to New York, N. Y., Mrs. Bruccoleri wore a gray gabardine suit, black accessories and lavender orchids. The newlyweds will take up residence at 205 Park Lane, Trenton, N. J.

Gifts of the bride to her attendants were marceline pins on which appeared their names; and gift of the bridegroom to the best man was a tie pin on which his name appeared.

DECEMBER

December ordinarily does not inspire encomiums from most people nor does it, ordinarily, deserve them. As a rule it is a surly month, likely to bring a long succession of raw days, with cold rain and marrow-chilling winds.

There may be a better side to December sometimes, though. Even a fair December day, it is true, is not to be compared with October's offerings; but it does have its points.

Take a bright December morning. It comes, normally, after a crisp night, so there is a coating of frost on the fields before the sun gets above the horizon. Then, as the warmth gets in its work, mist rises from the valleys. The air is cool and good to breathe. It is a good beginning for a day, in town or country, and it puts zest in a man with work to do.

Or take a clear December evening. Then the western heavens glow, as the sun goes down, with a smoky light deeper and richer than the translucent hues of early autumn. Bare branches stand out black against the sky. And when the brief afterglow has gone, the stars shine out in fiery brilliance against the night blue velvet overhead.

The debit side of December's ledger is dark with entries. But there is also a credit side for those who look.

AGAINST CREDIT CURBS

One of the most unfortunate effects of inflation is that measures taken to correct it can never be spread equally. Some groups will benefit. Others, without deserving it, will be hurt by the changes.

It is natural and defensible that groups which would be damaged by proposed policies should try to prevent their adoption. So it is not surprising that the American Bankers Association, in its president's statement to the Senate Banking Committee, should oppose President Truman's request for consumer credit controls.

The argument for such restrictions on installment buying and other credits runs as follows:

The more spending people do, the faster prices will rise. The easier it is for them to borrow, the more they will spend. Therefore, making it harder for them to borrow will help keep prices from rising.

President Kenton R. Cravens of the A. B. A. has two answers to that:

Installment buying has so little effect on prices compared to other pressures that such controls aren't needed.

Credits would do harm by forcing people to draw their money out of savings banks and cash their war bonds.

To consumers who are getting worried about rising prices, these arguments against controls may not seem so strong as the arguments for them. That is the trouble with all police state proposals. They are always painted in a hue to make them appear more desirable than the freedom of action which they are designed to supplant.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Apr. 29, 1897. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

The Rev. Dr. E. P. Shields, who after a pastorate of 13 years, asked to be dismissed from the Presbyterian Church here on account of impaired health, preached his farewell sermon last Sunday morning to a large audience. Dr. Shields will remove from here to Lawrenceville, N. J.

At a meeting of the membership of the Wheelmen's Road Association of Bristol on last Friday evening, the following persons were admitted: Leonard G. Bell, Joseph R. Grundy, Jonathan S. Wright, Miss Laura Sargent, Miss Mary Harper Tullytown, and William C. Mayne, Philadelphia.

There is a larger run of shad in the Delaware River this year than there has been for years. The fish are unusually large and are selling very cheap. A good sized shad can be had for a quarter; the prices ranging from 15 cents to half a dollar.

It is the expectation to let the lumber contract this week for the fence surrounding the new race track.

Five hundred shad were shipped to the New York market yesterday morning from Tullytown by John Sherman of Bristol.

William Blackwood is converting Riverview hall, Radcliffe and Walnut streets, into a dwelling house.

The Progressing Ice Company, which has been erecting the new ice manufactory this side of the cemetery, will be ready to supply the town with the manufactured product on next Monday. The plant has a capacity of 10 tons a day. The pump started Tuesday morning to draw water from the artesian well, the water of which will be used in making the ice. The well is 122 feet deep, and the water is drawn at the rate of 40 gallons a minute.

Miss Kate Hostwick, assisted by Miss Esther Beatty, will establish in Bristol this fall a Home School.

Secrets In Congress

In the first half of his speech he stressed again and again that the aid would take the form of foods and other relief commodities.

He said specifically of the program:

"It furnishes food, fuel, fertilizer, cotton, petroleum, pesticides and seeds."

Those who listened could not have failed to gain the impression that this was all it included—that he had enumerated everything which we would send abroad.

The fact of the matter is that the Senator did not even cover the list of commodities in the Bill. In addition to those he named, specified in the proposed law are also "petroleum products," "other fuel" (in addition to coal), and "fibers," (which certainly takes in more than cotton). Much more important, the Bill has what is in effect a joker clause, as follows:

"... and SUCH COMMODITIES AS THE PRESIDENT FINDS ARE NECESSARY."

In other words, the apparently clean-cut list which the Senator gave is in fact by no means exhaustive; and his stress and repetition can only be said to have conveyed an unfortunate misimpression.

Infinitely more significant, however, was the omission from this part of Senator Vandenberg's talk of a still more important "commodity" which the Bill provides for turning over to the European governments in question.

THAT IS AMERICAN MONEY!

Here is, of course, much the most dangerous part of the so-called Marshall program, and the point at which it strays farthest from relief and into the field of unsavory international politics.

Senator Vandenberg knew, of course, when he was reciting the above list, that he was leaving out the most dangerous and sensitive of all.

Of course he knew it, because later on in his talk, he said specifically:

"Before any commodities AND FUNDS are made available, etc."

But even here, he was far from being frank and open. He said, for example, that:

"Every relief commodity will be paid for in the local currency of the beneficiary country."

Without going on to point out that the supposedly destitute consumer would have to pay for the American relief food, fuel, etc., TO HIS OWN GOVERNMENT; that the plan does nothing for the persons who are truly destitute; and that the "local currency" in all cases is the inflated paper money ground out recklessly by Socialistic regimes trying to keep their heads above water.

It is the details that Senator Vandenberg glossed over which shed most light on the Marshall plan.

This is no program of giving food and fuel to the destitute. Such an idea is merely an illusion which the backers of the plan are trying to build up in the minds of the American people—those who are going to have to foot the bill.

THE FOOD AND FUEL ARE TO GO TO THOSE WHO HAVE MONEY ENOUGH TO PAY FOR THEM.

THE REASON THEY CAN'T BUY THE FOOD AND FUEL ELSEWHERE IS THAT THEIR MONEY IS BOGUS MONEY INFLATED "FIAT" MONEY GROUND OUT BY THESE EUROPEAN GOVERNMENTS.

THIS IS NO RELIEF PROGRAM—IT IS A SCHEME TO BOLSTER UP FOREIGN CURRENCIES AT THE EXPENSE OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.

AND IT IS A SCHEME TO SUPPORT AND KEEP IN POWER THE VERY SOCIALISTIC EUROPEAN GOVERNMENTS WHICH ADULTERated their currencies in the first place—and which ought to be thrown out for having done so.

The simplest proof that this is the true nature of this stop-gap version of the Marshall plan lies in the fact that resentment is so bitter over any effort to accomplish the "relief" itself without the tricky political "refinancing" included in the program.

The suggestion was made in the U. S. Senate that we simply throw away everything in the plan except the feeding of the hungry and providing fuel for the cold.

What was Senator Vandenberg's reaction?

He said that any such plan was

"Against anything remotely adequate or safe or consistent with our own foreign policy—fantastic, indefensible, and in complete collision with basic economic good sense."

Now, this is most interesting. Millions of Americans visualize the Marshall-Truman plan as a sort of "angel of mercy" program, whereby the American goods they are to provide by their own sacrifice (and higher prices) are to be laid down on the doorstep of starving, shivering families, while giant children dance with joy, and Uncle Sam is hailed around the world as a generous, unselfish and noble cross between Santa Claus and the good fairy.

Yet it is exactly this sort of program which Senator Vandenberg says would be "fantastic, indefensible," and a host of other bad adjectives.

HOW COME? Direct relief was the basis of the Hoover food program in Europe after the first war. It has been the basis of Red Cross work and Friends' Service activities, and of virtually all other emergency relief since the time of the Good Samaritan—who, according to the Bible, is not recorded to have looked into the purse of "him that fell among thieves" before deciding to help him.

YET THIS IS PRECISELY THE TYPE OF CHARITABLE ASSISTANCE WHICH SENATOR VANDENBERG THINKS IS "FANTASTIC," ETC.

All these thoughts are most important, because one of these days as the stage is now being set, thousands of women's aid societies, church groups, and a host of other associations will be writing tons of letters to their Congressmen demanding quick action on the Marshall program—letters from millions of persons who have never read the act, who know nothing whatever of what it provides, who assume it to be a charitable program of direct food-and-fuel relief, and who have no faint conception that the recipients of the American generosity can, under the plan, be required to PAY SOMEONE ELSE for every cent of the commodities the Americans send them.

(Following items from Gazette of May 6, 1897.)

There is a little curiosity shop up in Bristol, known as "Noah's Ark," where one can purchase all sort of antiquities, some of them being of the most remarkable character. Among these relics is an old marble tombstone which bears the following inscription: "Sacred to the memory of James Teusebury, who departed this life December ye 14, A. D. 1726, aged 22 years."

This stone was purchased six years ago at the public sale of the late Emma Conly, of Bristol, and was knocked down under the auctioneer's hammer for the sum of 15 cents. It was unearthed on the Conly farm several years ago. (Phila. Record.)

William Vansciver, of Burlington, has made five or six shipments of eels to a New York commission firm from Bristol during the past week.

The shad hatchery began operation yesterday morning with five jars of about 400,000 eggs, secured from Faunce Brothers Fishery at Riverton, N. J.

Trouble Begins

ARABS began carrying out threats of trouble as they ambushed a bus on the road from Jerusalem to Jaffa (indicated by broken line) and killed four Jews. All traffic on the road has been halted. Map also shows how Palestine will be partitioned under the final U.N. Assembly agreement. Jaffa (1) will be an Arab city in the Jewish state, Beer-sheba (2) in Negev is included in the 575,000 acres in the Arab state. Egyptian frontier area (3) will go to the Arabs. (International)

Goodbye DRUM SCORE

with PERMAFUSE BONDED BRAKES

Drum Scoring, caused primarily by rivets, is eliminated when your car or truck brake linings are bonded with PERMAFUSE, the Modern Method of Relining Brakes. Tested and proved More Serviceable, More Practical and More Economical.

Instead of rivets, a strip of the PERMAFUSE Bonding Tape is clamped between the brake shoe and the brake lining and heated in our electric bonding oven until they are virtually fused together. Remember PERMAFUSE for Longer Lasting Brakes.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1947

DECEMBER

December ordinarily does not inspire encomiums from most people nor does it, ordinarily, deserve them. As a rule it is a surly month, likely to bring a long succession of raw days, with cold rain and marrow-chilling winds.

There may be a better side to December sometimes, though.
Even a fair December day, it is true, is not to be compared with October's offerings; but it does have its points.

Take a bright December morning. It comes, normally, after a crisp night, so there is a coating of frost on the fields before the sun gets above the horizon. Then, as the warmth gets in its work, mist rises from the valleys. The air is cool and good to breathe. It is a good beginning for a day, in town or country, and it puts zest in a man with work to do.

Or take a clear December evening. Then the western heavens glow, as the sun goes down, with a smoky light deeper and richer than the translucent hues of early autumn. Bare branches stand out black against the sky. And when the brief afterglow has gone, the stars shine out in fiery brilliance against the night blue velvet overhead.

The debit side of December's ledger is dark with entries. But there is also a credit side for those who look.

AGAINST CREDIT CURBS

One of the most unfortunate effects of inflation is that measures taken to correct it can never be spread equally. Some groups will benefit. Others, without deserving it, will be hurt by the changes.

It is natural and defensible that groups which would be damaged by proposed policies should try to prevent their adoption. So it is not surprising that the American Bankers Association, in its president's statement to the Senate Banking Committee, should oppose President Truman's request for consumer credit controls.

The argument for such restrictions on installment buying and other credits runs as follows:
The more spending people do, the faster prices will rise. The easier it is for them to borrow, the more they will spend. Therefore, making it harder for them to borrow will help keep prices from rising.

President Kenton R. Cravens of the A. B. A. has two answers to that:

Installment buying has so little effect on prices compared to other pressures that such controls aren't needed.

Credits would do harm by forcing people to draw their money out of savings banks and cash their war bonds.

To consumers who are getting worried about rising prices, these arguments against controls may not seem so strong as the arguments for them. That is the trouble with all police state proposals. They are always painted in a hue to make them appear more desirable than the freedom of action which they are designed to supplant.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Apr. 29, 1897. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

The Rev. Dr. E. P. Shields, who after a pastorate of 13 years, asked to be dismissed from the Presbyterian Church here on account of impaired health, preached his farewell sermon last Sunday morning to a large audience. Dr. Shields will remove from here to Lawrenceville,
N. J.

At a meeting of the membership of the Wheelmen's Road Association of Bristol on last Friday evening, the following persons were admitted: Leonard G. Bell, Joseph R.
Grundy, Jonathan S. Wright, Miss
Laura Sargent, Miss Mary Harper,
Tullytown; and William C. Mayne, Philadelphia.

There is a larger run of shad in the Delaware River this year than there has been for years. The fish are unusually large and are selling very cheap. A good sized shad can be had for a quarter; the prices ranging from 15 cents to half a dollar.

It is the expectation to let the lumber contract this week for the fence surrounding the new race track.

Five hundred shad were shipped to the New York market yesterday morning from Tullytown by John Sherman of Bristol.

William Blackwood is converting Riverview hall, Radcliffe and Walnut streets, into a dwelling house.

The Progressing Ice Company, which has been erecting the new ice manufactory this side of the cemetery, will be ready to supply the town with the manufactured product on next Monday. The plant has a capacity of 10 tons a day. The pump started Tuesday morning to draw water from the artesian well, the water of which will be used in making the ice. The well is 122 feet deep, and the water is drawn at the rate of 40 gallons a minute.

Miss Kate Hostwick, assisted by Miss Esther Beatty, will establish in Bristol this fall a Home School.

Secrets In Congress

In the first half of his speech he stressed again and again that the aid would take the form of food and other relief commodities.

He said specifically of the program:

"It furnishes food, fuel, fertilizer, cotton, petroleum, pesticides and seeds."

Those who listened could not have failed to gain the impression that this was all it included—that he had enumerated everything which we would send abroad.

The fact of the matter is that the Senator did not even cover the list of commodities in the Bill. In addition to those he named, specified in the proposed law are also "petroleum products," "other fuel" (in addition to coal), and "fibers," (which certainly takes in more than cotton).
Much more important, the Bill has what is in effect a joker clause, as follows:

"... AND SUCH COMMODITIES AS THE PRES-IDENT FINDS ARE NECESSARY"

In other words, the apparently clean-cut list which the Senator gave is in fact by no means exhaustive; and his stress and repetition can only be said to have conveyed an unfortunate misimpression.

Infinitely more significant, however, was the omission from this part of Senator Vandenberg's talk of a still more important "commodity" which the Bill provides for turning over to the European governments in question.

THAT IS AMERICAN MONEY!

Here is, of course, the most dangerous part of the so-called Marshall program, and the point at which it strays farthest from relief into the field of unsavory international politics.

Senator Vandenberg knew, of course, when he was reciting the above list, that he was leaving out the most dangerous and sensitive of all.

Of course he knew it, because later on in his talk, he said specifically:
"Before any commodities AND FUNDS are made available, etc."

But even here, he was far from being frank and open. He said, for example, that:

"Every relief commodity will be paid for in the local currency of the beneficiary country."

Without going on to point out that the supposedly destitute consumer would have to pay for the American relief food, fuel, etc., TO HIS OWN GOVERNMENT; that the plan does nothing for the persons who are truly destitute; and that the "local currency" in all cases is the inflated paper money ground out recklessly by Socialist regimes trying to keep their heads above water.

It is the details that Senator Vandenberg glossed over which shed most light on the Marshall plan.

This is no program of giving food and fuel to the destitute. Such an idea is merely an illusion which the backers of the plan are trying to build up in the minds of the American people—those who are going to have to foot the bills.

THE FOOD AND FUEL ARE TO GO TO THOSE WHO HAVE MONEY ENOUGH TO PAY FOR THEM.

THE REASON THEY CAN'T BUY THE FOOD AND FUEL ELSE-WHERE IS THAT THEIR MONEY IS BOGUS MONEY—INFLATED.
"FIAT" MONEY GROUND OUT BY THESE EUROPEAN GOVERNMENTS.

THIS IS NO RELIEF PROGRAM—IT IS A SCHEME TO BOLSTER UP FOREIGN CURRENCIES AT THE EXPENSE OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.

AND IT IS A SCHEME TO SUPPORT AND KEEP IN POWER THE VERY SOCIALISTIC EUROPEAN GOVERNMENTS WHICH ADULTER-

ATED THEIR CURRENCIES IN THE FIRST PLACE—AND WHICH WOULD BE THROWN OUT FOR HAVING DONE SO.

The simplest proof that this is the true nature of this stop-gap version of the Marshall plan lies in the fact that resentment is so bitter over any effort to accomplish the "relief" itself without the tricky, political "refinancing" included in the program.

The suggestion was made in the U. S. Senate that we simply throw away everything in the plan except the feeding of the hungry and providing fuel for the cold.

What was Senator Vandenberg's reaction?
He said that any such plan was

"Against anything remotely adequate or safe or consistent with our own foreign policy—fantastic, indefensible, and in complete collision with basic economic good sense."

Now, this is most interesting. Millions of Americans visualize the Marshall-Truman plan as a sort of "angel of mercy" program, whereby the American goods they are to provide by their own sacrifice (and higher prices) are to be laid down on the doorstep of starving, shivering families, while gaunt children dance with joy, and Uncle Sam is hailed around the world as a generous, unselfish and noble cross between Santa Claus and the good fairies.

Yet it is exactly this sort of program which Senator Vandenberg says would be "fantastic, indefensible," and a host of other bad adjectives.
HOW COME? Direct relief was the basis of the Hoover food program in Europe after the first war. It has been the basis of Red Cross work and Friends' Service activities, and of virtually all other emergency relief since the time of the Good Samaritan—who, according to the Bible, is not recorded to have looked into the purse of "him that fell among thieves" before deciding to help him.

YET THIS IS PRECISELY THE TYPE OF CHARITABLE ASSIST-ANCE WHICH SENATOR VANDENBERG THINKS IS "FANTASTIC" ETC.

All these thoughts are most important, because one of these days, as the stage is now being set, thousands of women's aid societies, church groups, and a host of other associations, will be writing tons of letters to their Congressmen demanding quick action on the Marshall program—letters from millions of persons who have never read the act, who know nothing whatever of what it provides, who assume it to be a charitable program of direct food-and-fuel relief, and who have no faint conception that the recipients of the American generosity can, under the plan, be required to PAY SOMEONE ELSE for every cent of the commodities the Americans send them.

Navy Veteran Fatally Hurt, 5 Others Injured In Week-End Auto Accidents

She was taken to the Nazareth Hospital. Dr. Sobel considered the child's condition serious.

According to Officer Kutney, of Penna. State Police, Langhorne barracks a coupe was operated by Custer, with Bennett and Baettner as passengers. They were travelling west on Trenton road; and Brown, driving a sedan, was travelling east, he taking Mrs. Brown to the home of her sister where she is residing. At a point one mile east of Durham road, the cars crashed head-on at 12:45 Sunday morning. Both machines were demolished.

The five were taken to Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia, by Bucks County Rescue Squad, and by Howard Black, Hulmeville. Baettner died yesterday morning in the hospital, he having suffered concussion of the brain.

Baettner, a veteran of World War I, had served in the U. S. Navy. He was a member of Fallsington Post of the American Legion. The young man, who was single, was the only child of Joseph and Claire Baettner. He was an employee of Badenhausen Corp., Cornwells Heights. Relatives and friends are invited to the funeral home of J. Maurice Tomlinson, Cornwells Heights, tomorrow evening. Viewing is also arranged at Cokeburg on Wednesday evening, with service in that community at 11 a. m., Thursday, and burial there in Scenery Hill Cemetery.

Charles Harry Cardon, 5762 North 5th St., Phila., Temple University student, died at 1:45 p. m., Saturday in Grand View Hospital, Sellersville, after having been accidentally shot in a hunting accident in the Perkiomen Valley section in Montgomery County.

Police said the fatal shot was fired by George A. Gray, 24, husband of Cardon's sister, Anna, who lives with his wife and her parents at 7307 Oak Lane, Phila.

Gray and a third member of the hunting party, Winfield C. Lederer,

Jr., 23, of 453 Crest ave., Melrose Park, boyhood friend of Cardon, both veterans too, said Gray turned quickly to fire at a rabbit, and the 22 caliber rifle bullet struck Cardon in the neck.

Since the hospital is in Bucks county, officials of that county took over the investigation. W. J. Flexer, of Quakertown, State game warden, said Gray would be held for action by the coroner.

OWNERS LIKE the KAISER and the FRAZER!

THEY WRITE FROM EVERYWHERE PRAISING PERFORMANCE, RIDE AND SERVICE

The Kaiser and the Frazer have been tried out in hundreds of millions of miles of motoring, by more than 115,000 owners. The verdict of these critical buyers is overwhelmingly favorable. Their experience adds up to such enthusiastic endorsement that more than half the sales we make result from owner recommendations!

Owners of Kaiser and Frazer cars write letters to Willow Run by the thousands, praising the performance, ease of control, roominess, economy and, above all, the ride that these great postwar automobiles give them. The following excerpts from unsolicited letters tell the whole story of why Kaiser and Frazer owners like these fine cars.

These Voluntary Statements Are Typical of Thousands

All Around Satisfaction—"I purchased the first Frazer car sold in our town. It is the best automobile I have ever owned or driven—and that takes in a goodly number."—From a Hamilton, Mont., Farmer.

Effortless Driving—"I have never experienced such performance and effortless driving as I have since I became the owner of a Kaiser—wonderful to handle in traffic."—From a San Marcos, Cal., State Forester.

The Best Ride of All—"I have driven my Frazer 8,247 miles. On a recent 2,780-mile trip through Canada I averaged 26.6 miles to the gallon. I have owned and operated many different makes of cars over a period of a great many years and never until I bought my Frazer have I owned a car that was so economical and I can truthfully say that this car gives the best ride of any automobile I have ever owned."—From a Cranston, R. I., Physician.

Safety—"For comfort and safety, I am convinced—after 10,000 miles—that no other car in any price range can compare with my Kaiser."—From a Mayfield, Ky., Sgt.

No Fatigue—"Driving my Frazer an average of 15 hours a day, I made the run from New York to San Francisco in 5½ days without the slightest fatigue. The road stability of the car is remarkable. Total absence of vibration. Absolute steadiness of the wheel."—From a Belgian Diplomat.

Service Accessibility—"I bought my Kaiser as I was sold on its workmanship, design and performance. Have just completed a 5,500-mile vacation trip and I like the lubrication layout and the way you can get at the engine. All parts that might need repair are more accessible than in any other car. These words are not only mine but those of service station attendants in many localities."—From a Peoria, Ill., Factory Supervisor.

Comfort—"After averaging 420 miles a day for 17 straight days on a round trip to California by way of Florida with my wife and three children, none of us were travel-fatigued when we got home. The Frazer is really a great car."—From a Trenton, Mich., Businessman.

Good Service—"A product is only as good as the service in back of it. My Kaiser has been well serviced everywhere, from the start, and I am perfectly satisfied."—From a Providence, R. I., Motor Vehicle Inspector.

Performance—"If any of your prospects want performance figures, here are a few: I just finished a 4,000-mile trip in my Frazer averaging above 20 miles per gallon at between 60 and 70 miles per hour. The car will hit 100 miles per hour anytime and will do 70 miles per hour in second gear. I can truthfully say that my car performs better as it gets older."—From a Laurel, Md., Businessman.

Roominess—"Friends who ride in my Kaiser are amazed at its roominess and at the smoothness of the ride."—From a Milwaukee, Wis., Retired Businessman.

Styling—"Our new Frazer has the more-expensive-car performance and styling and the less-expensive-car economy."—From a Hamilton, Ohio, Engineer.

Excellent Treatment—"We were on the list for 8 months when we took delivery of our Kaiser. In this day of 'under-the-table' deals, and 'accessories-or-else' policies, it is refreshing to report the excellent treatment we have had from your dealer."—From a Passaic, N. J., Businessman.

Most Satisfactory—"I want to thank you for selling me a Frazer. It is the most satisfactory car I have ever driven—and I have owned several different makes of cars in both the low-priced and the high-priced lines."—From a Boston, Mass., Insurance Executive.

HEAR BOY SOPRANO

HULMEVILLE, Dec. 1—A large audience expressed wonderment at the exceptional voice of Charles Elmer, 13-year-old soprano, of Philadelphia, when he sang at the service last evening in Neshaminy Methodist Church. In addition to "The Lord's Prayer" (Mallotte), he sang three other numbers, accompanied for two being provided on a record player. As an organ-piano duet Mrs. George Fetter, South Langhorne, and Miss Clara L. Illick, played "Soldiers of the King."

Dougherty Honored By Yacht Club

This is the first time that such an honor has been bestowed on any member of an up-river yacht club.

Dougherty, in his acceptance speech, said that nothing that the club could have given him would have pleased him more.

At the close of the ceremonies there was the official gun salute for the new commodore with Rear-Commodore Henry Streep giving the firing orders.

The balance of the evening was given over to dancing and a buffet supper.

Dougherty has served as harbor master of Bristol for many years.

Navy Veteran Fatally Hurt, 5 Others Injured In Week-End Auto Accidents

She was taken to the Nazareth Hospital. Dr. Sobel considered the child's condition serious.

According to Officer Kutney, of Penna. State Police, Langhorne barracks, a coupe was operated by Custer, with Bennett and Buettner as passengers. They were travelling west on Trenton road; and Brown, driving a sedan, was travelling east, he taking Mrs. Brown to the home of her sister where she is residing. At a point one mile east of Durham road, the cars crashed head on at 12:45 Sunday morning. Both machines were demolished.

The five were taken to Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia, by Bucks County Rescue Squad, and by Howard Black, Hulmeville. Buettner died yesterday morning in the hospital, he having suffered concussion of the brain.

Buettner, a veteran of World War II, had served in the U. S. Navy. He was a member of Falisington Post of the American Legion. The young man, who was single, was the only child of Joseph and Claire Buettner. He was an employee of Badenhause Corp., Cornwells Heights.

Relatives and friends are invited to the funeral home of J. Maurice Tomlinson, Cornwells Heights, tomorrow evening. Viewing is also arranged at Cokeburg on Wednesday evening, with service in that community at 11 a. m., Thursday, and burial there in Scenery Hill Cemetery.

Charles Harry Cardon, 5762 North 6th St., Phila., Temple University student, died at 1:45 p. m., Saturday

in Grand View Hospital, Sellersville, after having been accidentally shot in a hunting accident in the Perkiomen Valley section in Montgomery County.

Police said the fatal shot was fired by George A. Gray, 24, husband of Cardon's sister, Anna, who lives with his wife and her parents at 7307 Oak Lane, Phila.

Gray and a third member of the hunting party, Winfield C. Lederer,

Jr., 23, of 453 Crest ave., Melrose Park, boyhood friend of Cardon, both veterans too, said Gray turned quickly to fire at a rabbit, and the .22 caliber rifle bullet struck Cardon in the neck.

Since the hospital is in Bucks county, officials of that county took over the investigation. W. J. Flexer, of Quakertown, State game warden, said Gray would be held for action by the coroner.

WORKSHOP OPENS

OWNERS LIKE the KAISER and the FRAZER!

THEY WRITE FROM EVERYWHERE PRAISING PERFORMANCE, RIDE AND SERVICE

The Kaiser and the Frazer have been tried out in hundreds of millions of miles of motoring, by more than 115,000 owners. The verdict of these critical buyers is overwhelmingly favorable. Their experience adds up to such enthusiastic endorsement that more than half the sales we make result from owner recommendations!

Owners of Kaiser and Frazer cars write letters to Willow Run by the thousands, praising the performance, ease of control, roominess, economy and, above all, the ride that these great postwar automobiles give them. The following excerpts from unsolicited letters tell the whole story of why Kaiser and Frazer owners like these fine cars.

These Voluntary Statements Are Typical of Thousands

All Around Satisfaction—"I purchased the first Frazer car sold in our town. It is the best automobile I have ever owned or driven—and that takes in a goodly number."—From a Hamilton, Mont., Farmer.

Effortless Driving—"I have never experienced such performance and effortless driving as I have since I became the owner of a Kaiser—wonderful to handle in traffic."—From a San Marcos, Cal., State Forester.

The Best Ride of All—"I have driven my Frazer 8,247 miles. On a recent 2,780-mile trip through Canada I averaged 26.6 miles to the gallon. I have owned and operated many different makes of cars over a period of a great many years and never until I bought my Frazer have I owned a car that was so economical and I can truthfully say that this car gives the best ride of any automobile I have ever owned."—From a Cranston, R. I., Physician.

Safety—"For comfort and safety, I am convinced—after 10,000 miles—that no other car in any price range can compare with my Kaiser."—From a Mayfield, Ky., Sgt.

No Fatigue—"Driving my Frazer an average of 15 hours a day, I made the run from New York to San Francisco in 5½ days without the slightest fatigue. The road stability of the car is remarkable. Total absence of vibration. Absolute steadiness of the wheel."—From a Belgian Diplomat.

Service Accessibility—"I bought my Kaiser as I was sold on its workmanship, design and performance. Have just completed a 5,500-mile vacation trip and I like the lubrication layout and the way you can get at the engine. All parts that might need repair are more accessible than in any other car. These words are not only mine but those of service station attendants in many localities."—From a Peoria, Ill., Factory Supervisor.

Comfort—"After averaging 420 miles a day for 17 straight days on a round trip to California by way of Florida with my wife and three children, none of us were travel-fatigued when we got home. The Frazer is really a great car."—From a Trenton, Mich., Businessman.

Good Service—"A product is only as good as the service in back of it. My Kaiser has been well serviced everywhere, from the start, and I am perfectly satisfied."—From a Providence, R. I., Motor Vehicle Inspector.

Performance—"If any of your prospects want performance figures, here are a few: I just finished a 4,000-mile trip in my Frazer averaging above 20 miles per gallon at between 60 and 70 miles per hour. The car will hit 100 miles per hour anytime and will do 70 miles per hour in second gear. I can truthfully say that my car performs better as it gets older."—From a Laurel, Md., Businessman.

Roominess—"Friends who ride in my Kaiser are amazed at its roominess and at the smoothness of the ride."—From a Milwaukee, Wis., Retired Businessman.

Styling—"Our new Frazer has the more-expensive-car performance and styling and the less-expensive-car economy."—From a Hamilton, Ohio, Engineer.

Excellent Treatment—"We were on the list for 8 months when we took delivery of our Kaiser. In this day of 'under-the-table' deals, and 'accrue-or-lose' policies, it is refreshing to report the excellent treatment we have had from your dealer."—From a Passaic, N. J., Businessman.

Most Satisfactory—"I want to thank you for selling me a Frazer. It is the most satisfactory car I have ever driven—and I have owned several different makes of cars in both the low-priced and the high-priced lines."—From a Boston, Mass., Insurance Executive.

The Great Game of Politics

est influence with him, some of whom are not important for any other reason.

—0—

AT this time it is generally acknowledged that those most influential are Mr. Clark Clifford, of Missouri, counsel to the President; Mr. Gael Sullivan, assistant chairman of the Democratic National Committee, also of Missouri; Senator McGrath, the new chairman, Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach and Attorney General Clark. This including the recently resigned Postmaster General Hannegan, is the group which induced Mr. Truman to veto the Taft-Hartley bill last summer. The Cabinet members who thought this a mistake included Mr. Foran, Mr. Harriman, Mr. Anderson, Mr. Snyder, and Mr. Patterson, then Secretary of War. These were the nonpolitical and most people will agree, the ablest members of the Truman Cabinet. But it was the Hannegan-Sullivan-Clifford group which prevailed then and it was this group which prevailed again in the President's message sent to Congress on the opening of the special session in which he presented his piecemeal program of price control.

—0—

THERE were several reasons this program was widely regarded as political. First, few informed persons believe there is much chance of getting Congress to accept these recommendations or that Mr. Truman did not know this; second, no competent economist believes that they would work if accepted; third, the advisers who urged this program on the President were mostly politicians, fourth, the Administration "strategists" make no secret of their conviction that the rejection of the Truman recommendations would make it possible effectively to charge that the Republicans, by refusing Mr. Truman's requests for controls, are responsible for continued high prices and inflation.

—0—

THIS is the issue upon which they propose to wage the 1948 campaign. This is the foundation upon which they hope to fight. And the group responsible for the message are somewhat jubilant over their success in laying it down. However, they have plans to expand and strengthen this foundation in the next message which the President must send to Congress when it convenes in regular session five weeks hence. They already are at work on this, and an authoritative forecast is that it will make Mr. Truman "liberal" in a big way. If the advice of the Sullivan-McGrath-Clifford advisers prevails this time, as it has in the past, Mr. Truman will come out strongly as a sort of second Roosevelt, a "new New Dealer," a crusader for the masses and champion of the "common man."

—0—

THERE will be various recommendations designed to appeal to the left and particularly to labor. He will urge broadening of social security, large Federal health, education and housing programs, regulation of monopolies and curbs on "big business." He will oppose a reduction in taxes except on the low income groups. In brief, there will be no comfort in the message for conservatives or even semi-conservatives in either party. The political strategy as evolved by the President's advisers is to "let the conservatives go Republican, concentrate their efforts on labor and the "liberals" leaving no excuse for a left-wing third party movement by Mr. Wallace or anyone else.

AS in the case of his special-session message, the President's advisers know that only a small part of his recommendations for the regular session will get through. But the decision to go to the left has been definitely made. That they think, is the only way to win the election. That they think, will brand the Republicans as "reactionary," keep them on the defensive, rally all the old Roosevelt elements behind the Democratic ticket. The party publicity is already being geared to this end.

—0—

BEYOND doubt the new message like the last one, will be politically inspired. Whether it turns out to be good politics remains to be seen. Much, of course, depends on the Republicans—how effectively they counterattack, the quality of their record in the next session and the character of their candidate. But the main question is whether the country as a whole which for sixteen years past has been taken toward the left, wants to continue in that direction or turn the other way. At any rate, it is to be hoped the voters will be given a choice—which they certainly did not have in the last two campaigns.

Here and There In Bucks County Towns

Preston Hillman was united in marriage at the Ferndale parsonage. Each couple served as witnesses for the other.

The couple have four children, Mrs. Hilda M. Tranch, Weiser, Mrs. Russell L. Miller, Perkasie; Mrs. John R. McClellan, Millville, N. J., and Webster S. Tranch, Bodminister.

There are two grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

The bridal gown of rich-looking gold moire, a black cape, and the bridegroom's derby, and a colorful framed wedding certificate were shown to the guests.

Six Die in Fire In Phila. Mission

Aid was about ten feet away when the man leaped, landing on his head. He died several hours later at St. Luke's Hospital.

The dormitories were confined to the second and third floors of the shelter. The first floor housed the shelter store in which the fire was believed to have started, while the fourth floor contained the work rooms of the organization.

Hundreds of toys which had been gathered by the home were being remodeled and repaired by its occupants for distribution at Christmas.

Besides Rich, the other dead were Patrick Allen, 70; William Sneed, 65; Michael Boyle, 50; Thomas Wallace, 45, and Charles Kenny, 50.

Bill Patterson, a night watchman at the plant, said a cigarette may have been responsible for the roaring fire which wiped out the entire interior of the Industrial Institute.

The Institute contains two floors of dormitories, in which 60 men were housed, and workshops where toys and furniture are repaired and newspapers are collected.

Patterson told police:

"I saw the fire start in a couch in the store on the first floor. I tried to put it out with a hand extinguisher, but I was driven back by the heat."

He turned in the first alarm.

Fire Battalion Chief Leonard

Dunlap, who arrived with the first firemen, said "the whole place was on fire when we arrived."

The flames were shooting out the second and third floor windows, and you couldn't see the fourth floor for the smoke and flames," he added.

Fire Inspector Robert J. Clark also reported a total of five dead.

"We believe we have everyone, and all the bodies, out of the building," Clark said.

The unidentified man who was not expected to live was badly injured when he jumped from the flame-shrouded building.

Battalion Chief Warren Stackhouse said he was directing a ladder to the window where the man's figure was silhouetted by the flames.

"We were playing a stream of water above him, but the flames behind him forced him to jump. In another second or two, the ladder would have reached him."

Seven men who had been lodged in the shelter were carried down ladders. Ten more made their way down a front fire escape, jumping the last few feet to safety as flames licked the metal. The others fled through the back of the building.

Ice coated the building and streets. Rev. Mark Cleary, a Catholic priest, administered last rites to several victims, while neighbors took in many others until they could be transferred to other shelters.

Police said they had accounted for 51 of the 68 men in the shelter, but emphasized their belief that the others probably wandered away from the scene without reporting their safety.

John Green, a lodger, also was among those reported in extremely critical condition. He had second degree burns.

Almighty God, whose presence fills all things, we turn from the burdens of our day to catch a fresh vision of thy love for us. Take from our lives all thoughts and desires that hinder thy plan for our lives. Increase within us a sense of our need of Thee, that seeking Thee we may be found of Thee through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Contralto and Tenor Are To Add to Program of V. I. A.

DOYLESTOWN, Dec. 1 — Two musicians will add to the program of the Village Improvement Association tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 in the Presbyterian Educational Building. Mrs. Estelle Curtis Mal-lams, contralto, who formerly sang with the Philadelphia Opera Com-pany, and Roy Wilde, a young Cana-dian tenor, will present a program of musical numbers. Mr. Wilde is a member of the Academy of Vocal Arts. The two will be accompanied by Mrs. George Kager.

A reception is scheduled for new club members; and Christmas din-ner table decorations will feature. The latter will be in charge of Mrs. J. Carroll Malloy, Jr., with V. I. A. members competing.

Glasses of jelly, jam, and fruit will be contributed to the Doylestown Emergency Hospital.

Presiding at the tea table will be Mrs. E. C. Bidwell and Mrs. W. W. Sachsenmaier.

Today's Quiet Moment

By The
Rev. Bickley Burns Broadhead
Pastor
Bensalem Methodist Church

Almighty God, whose presence fills all things, we turn from the burdens of our day to catch a fresh vision of Thy Love for us. Take from our lives all thoughts and desires that hinder Thy plan for our lives. Increase within us a sense of our need of Thee, that seeking Thee we may be found of Thee through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

ST. FRANCIS TEAM
CLOSES SEASON
WITH A VICTORY

EDDINGTON, Dec. 1 — The St. Francis Vocational School eleven closed its season Saturday afternoon with a 49-0 win over the LaSalle Trade School, of Phoenixville. It was the eighth win of the season for the boys coached by Brother Anthony. They were beaten twice. Eddie Moore and Bill Jackson each scored a pair of touchdowns against LaSalle. Moore's first score was from a six-yard plunge while on the second touchdown he dove over from the 2-yard line. Jackson's initial touchdown was a 72-yards return of a punt while on the second counter he went over from the two.

"Clem" Campbell on a tackle-around play, scored a touchdown from the 17-yard line, taking the ball from Quarterback "Jake" Breslin. Campbell also scored a St. Francis safety when he tackled "Ted" Wigerman, of LaSalle, behind the goal line. "Ernie" Shoenwolf scored a touchdown when he skirted around right end for 10 yards in the final session while an 11-yard pass, "Mickey" Celestino to "Steve" Ostopchuck, scored the other touchdown. Joe Soknel converted five of the extra points via placements. St. Francis had 11 first downs while the visitors had six.

RENT ORDINANCE

MINNEAPOLIS (INN) — A new Minneapolis ordinance prohibits remodeling of rental housing if tenants would be evicted as a result. The city building inspector will issue permits for repairs or remodeling only when the work is ordered by the city for health or safety reasons. In such cases, the owner must file an affidavit stating that eviction notices have not and will not be served.

Important Notice
to Fuel Oil Users

You doubtless have noticed in the public press articles calling attention to the acute shortage of all petroleum products. You may already be experiencing difficulty in buying gasoline.

This same thing applies to fuel oil which you are buying to heat your home. Last year was warmer than normal and so far this year we have been fortunate in having weather warmer than normal. In view of the extreme shortage of heating oils, we believe it is unsafe to assume that this winter likewise will be warmer than normal and we believe that if we experience a normally cold winter, it will be necessary for every customer to use every means to conserve furnace oil.

We hope it will not be necessary to limit your supply of fuel oil but that is by no means certain. Therefore, we urge that you apply the same conservation methods you used during wartime rationing. Keep your thermostat set as low as possible. Turn it down at night. Close off unused rooms. Weather-strip your doors and windows.

If your oil burner is old and worn beyond economical operation, replace it with a new, modern 1948 model oil saving Delco heating unit. This will help you get the most out of your oil allotment.

We are doing and will do everything within our power to assure that none of our regular customers suffer through want of fuel oil. In view of the extraordinary situation now prevailing, we believe that this cannot be assured without the united co-operation of all of our hundreds of customers. If we are compelled to limit your supply, it will be in reduction of your annual consumption. Therefore, any oil you save now directly benefits you later.

In fairness to our regular customers, we are not taking on any new fuel oil accounts while the emergency exists. To the many prospective new customers who are calling us daily, we extremely regret our inability to serve you at this time. If and when the shortage of fuel oil is overcome, we again will welcome new business.
